MODIS CHRISHA

Modis Chrisha is composing classical compositions and electronic music in his own individual style. Orchestral and world music elements, arranged together with synthetic sounds and beats. Electronic music in its purest form and massive sounds. To create something timeless is always the goal.

Born in a family with a long history in composing music, dating back centuries, Modis Chrisha, (real name, Christian Roith) is following his ancestors in his own creative way. He did start to work as a DJ when he was a teenager and very soon had gigs in many clubs.

His 2011 released debut album "PASSION Vol. Storm" found many fans worldwide and brought Modis Chrisha a lot respect from other artists, producers and composers in the electronic and classical music scene. His Music is 100% original. Motivated by this small but respectable success Modis Chrisha, 45, started to write more music and created two projects for his creative music works.

One project is called "PASSION" and includes the typical orchestral, classical elements from different cultures and electronic sounds.

The second project is called "Private Collections" and includes music compositions and productions which are different or simple fit into another genre. The latest production "Lost in the Desert" is the first album of this project series, it is an electronic/dance/futuristic music journey.
