A.G. SCHWARTZ

“Musika” is Alon G. Schwartz’s debut EP presenting 5 songs. A project that was created on board of airplanes while flying around the world as an international designer. Each city painted a song: Tokyo, Berlin, New York, Milan... giving “Musika” it’s international feel.

“Musika” was produced by Shy Barshishat, who gave the EP it’s exposed, “close to the ear” language, Crossing through different styles like soul, rock, r&b and more with a warm vintage sound.

Some influences that can be spotted in “Musika” are from: Elvis Presley, George Michael, James Blake Danger Mouse and Mark Ronson.

All of the songs were written and composed by Alon apart from “Shoot Me” that was written in collaboration with Alona Daniel and composed by Eli Soorani.
