

Founded in 1965 CHICKEN SHACK are and were one of the major bands of the British Bluesrock era, alongside bands like Fleetwood Mac, Ten Years After, Savoy Brown, Groundhogs, Steamhammer, John Mayall's Bluesbreakers, Rolling Stones ... Led by founding member and guitarist and singer extraordinaire Stan Webb, CHICKEN SHACK stormed through many line-ups and incarnations until today.

Their style ranging from psychedelic, almost progish to roots blues to boogie and hard rock, the band has always been one live club killer who never failed to rock the house down.

In 1981 Stan Webb had possibly found the most prolific of all of his line-ups with basically an all-star line-up of bluesrock royalty:

Stan Webb, the master - guitars and vocals   Paul Butler (ex-Keef Hartley Band) - guitars, vocals   Ric Lee (ex-Ten Years After) - drums   Andy Pyle (ex-Kinks, ex-Blodwyn Pig) - bass   Tony Ashton (ex-Ashton, Gardner & Dyke) - keyboard, vocals.

This ROADIES CONCERTO recording displays the mastery of this assembly of exceptional musicians - a gathering of the tribes! Rarely ever CHICKEN SHACK played in such perfection.

In this line-up they undertook a very successful tour of Europe, esp. Germany ... they blew everybody's mind!
