

Glidesonic: The british Band.

Biography, September 2019

A cosmic-crusading super-cat, a pair of gender-fluid singing androids, and a chilled, flip-flop wearing frog, form a band to save Planet Earth from destruction with their brand of love-infused EDM. Well, kind of... The intergalactically-renowned EDM-pop band behind Top Ten dance tracks Super Cool Aliens (#7 in the UK Music Week Commercial Pop chart) and Return to Desire (#5 in the German Deep House chart) are as ambiguous as they are talented.

Having already wowed an army of fans, Glidesonic have now released Energy, their most sublime, danceable anthem to date. The accompanying music video is a kaleidoscopic mash-up of cyborg cool, which introduces us to the complete line-up of the Glidesonic crew.

GLIDY

DJ, keyboard player, producer

Recruited by a shadowy group of Cosmic Elders from beyond the solar system known as the Smooth Revolution, Glidy's task was as simple as it was ambitious: form a band to spread love and peace whilst simultaneously kicking the asses of those wreaking destruction on Planet Earth. In need of transport, he borrows a battered Sonic Space Scooter from a space shuttle parking lot, hooks up with the Sidekick Twins and Chill Frog, and sets out on his mission.

THE SIDEKICK TWINS

Singers, songwriters, cool movers

Adopted by Glidy when their parents were captured by space militants during the Kepler Wars, this pair of partying-obsessed gender-fluid hedonists eventually joined the band as vocalists and songwriters. With the meanest sidekick in the entire galaxy they take zero crap and are a potent force in Glidesonic's Earth-saving mission - when they're not too busy having fun...

CHILL FROG
Guitarist, space navigator

Hitching a lift at a deep space charging station, this super-chilled amphibian could hardly believe his luck when Glidy and the Twins turned up lost and needing to recharge their Space Scooter. Chill Frog swiftly managed to convince them of his navigation skills, failing to mention he dropped out of the Academy for Space Frog Cadets, having skipped the all-important cosmic sat-nav seminars. Falling for his boyish charm and suitably impressed by his three-chord guitar strumming, Glidy agreed he could join the band and act as navigator-in-chief of the scooter.
