

Modern alternative Pop that doesn't sacrifice emotions for the sake of complexity. The band MIM is drawing from a rich repertoire of styles such as Pop, Funk, R&B and Jazz, but always manages to let these influences shine through without overshadowing the original ideas they pair them with and manage to create a style of their own. Their first two albums Expired Warranty (2016) and New Breeze (2019), created and produced in Tyrol, play with cleverness, charm, sympathetic self-irony and that portion of emotionality that makes the created songs so distinctive. MIM is currently working on an EP which will be released already this year.
