

Spiha - The Story So Far

Spiha is an unique blend of wild, addictive groove and raw rock-energy - music you can dance to or bang your head to. At times frenzied and crazy. Spiha is definitely - a ride. Yet the band has scope so far beyond your average grooverock -outfit, with taste for melody and fearless skill in venturing into progressive ground.

History

Spiha has played regularly on the Helsinki club scene ever since January 1999. The band's raw energy and throbbing groove, created by the furious energy of six ready and able young man, has never failed to convince the audience. Indeed, immediately after their first gig, they were offered a record deal from Metamorphos, a Finnish independent label. Later, in 2002 Spiha signed a three-album deal with Finnish label, Rock Frequency Records. Debut album Egoreactor was out in 2003 and featured a hit song "If I Ever Let You Go" which shot straight to number one in local radio chart.

Spiha has played with bands like The 69Eyes, Mike Monroe (ex-Hanoi Rocks frontman), Suburban Tribe, Five Fiveteen, Mutants, The Duplo!, Jimsonweed, Dark Sun and many more.

Spiha's discography

2000: Toothhelmet (EP), Metamorphos
2003: Egoreactor, Low Frequency Records
2005: It's Alive (Live), Low Frequency Records
2005: Spiritual Hallucination, Low Frequency Records

The latest single release is Planet Horse from studio album Spiritual Hallucination. Planet Horse music video is directed by Ykä Järvinen.

Lineup

Henry Lee Rock - Vocals
Daemon P.A. Volume - Guitar
Junza - Guitar
Bomber - Bass
Ringo Deathstarr - Drums
Mr. Ielectric - Keyboards

Henry Lee Rock is a well-known figure and singer in Helsinki groove-rock scene. Guitarist Deamon P.A. Volume, with bass player English Bomber formed the band back in 1999. Ringo Deathstarr used to bang drums in HIM in their debut album. Junza is an extremely talented old-school figure in rock guitar while Mr. Ielectric represents younger, energetic generation while being one of the leading keyboard virtuoses in Helsinki. Together this crazy mixture of talented guys is Spiha!

